Sally Heinrich

Children's Book Illustration One Day Workshop

Have you ever dreamt of illustrating your own children's book? Join illustrator Sally Heinrich for a day exploring picture book illustration. This workshop will give you a peek behind the scenes at how to bring your own or another person's text to life. Explore the basics of book design, storyboarding, composition and character development. Suitable for all levels of art skills, even beginners, as long as you're not afraid to have a go, doodle, make a mess and maybe even come away with the beginnings of your own picture book.

Please bring along a favourite picture book, and a story to illustrate. It can be your own, someone else's or a favourite folk or fairy tale.

Yvonne Twining

Shoemaking Three Day Workshop

If you find shoe shopping an arduous task because of your foot size or shape, or if you simply like to make a statement with your footwear, this is the class for you. This workshop will cover the complete processes involved in making one style of footwear, using your own feet as the lasts:

- Side opening shoe OR centre opening low ankle boot.

Students will be encouraged to be creative with their choice and combination of leathers, colours and trim designs. All materials will be supplied and will include unusual leathers for trims. No previous knowledge is required. Expect to make one pair of shoes.

Date: Friday, Saturday & Sunday January 10, 11 & 12, 2020

Frey Micklethwait

Idea Generation Two Day Workshop

Expand your creative horizons with drawing and play. Find new ways to develop your concepts. Expect to be challenged but to also have fun. Frey has exercises that will reinvigorate your eye "both internal and external" and give you a broader palette to utilise when planning your artwork.

In Frey's words "All you need is an HB or 2B pencil, A3 paper or pad, an open mind and the ability to play, explore and try to let go of fear"

There will be handouts with examples of all the exercises so you will have your own handbook for both reference during and after the workshop.

Date: Monday & Tuesday January 20 & 21, 2020
